Designing & Type Setting : Shri Raju Verma (Hindi Typist, ICHR)

Chairman's Column

The Foundation Charter [Memorandum of Association (MoA), 1972] of ICHR states very clearly the objectives of this body. Some of the primary objectives are: “to foster objective and scientific writing of history such as will inculcate and informed appreciation of the country’s national and cultural heritage”; “to review the progress of historical research from time to time and indicate neglected or new areas where research needs to be specifically promoted”; “to organise, sponsor and support seminars, workshops and conferences for the promotion and utilisation of historical research”; “to promote publications of historical research of a high standard...”; “institutional arrangements for training in research methodology”.

In the last number of the newsletter I wrote that “I am preparing a ‘vision paper’ of my own in consultation with my historian colleagues”. I discussed it with the eighteen new members of the Council constituted in January 2019 by the Government of India. Subsequently, an academic calendar for the ICHR activities for the whole year was prepared. Under the aforementioned objectives the ICHR & AHRC, UK conducted a joint workshop titled ‘Cultural Heritage, Migration and Indian Diaspora’ wherein the new areas of historical research viz: Indian Diaspora and Cultural Markets; Cultural Heritage Transformations; Cultural Heritage as a Driver Migration; Identities and Migration, etc were discussed at length. Another joint workshop between the ICHR and its German partner DFG was held at Marburg, Germany on ‘Cultures of Archival Research in Germany and India’. The workshop was well attended by the young researchers of India and Germany. The ICHR North East Regional Centre, Guwahati organised a national seminar on ‘History of North East India: Emerging Trends’, wherein the scholars tried to address: the cultural contacts between different communities; to look into the ritual practices and ceremonies in North East India; to find out the status of education, health and medicines; the women empowerment in North East India; the development of tribal history in North East India; to highlight traditions, practices and features of tribes of North East, etc.

The Western Regional Centre, Pune conducted a symposium on ‘Intellectual Currents in Colonial Western India’. Further, to promote the new or neglected areas in historical research, the ICHR during this period decided to undertake the special research projects titled ‘Comprehensive History of Bharat’; ‘Documentation of Cultural Heritage and Setting up of Museum Corners of Peripheral Regions/ Villages of India’; ‘Yadava Inscriptions’; ‘History of Towns and Villages in India’; and, Lesser Known Personalities, Dynasties and Organisations in India’.

Under one of the ICHR objective to promote, publication of high standard, the ICHR has published its internationally reputed journal Indian Historical Review (IHR), Vol. 46 No. 1 and Itihas (Sodh Patrika), Vol. 4 No. 2, and Volumes 4 and 5 of the Dictionary of Martyrs: India’s Freedom Struggle (1857-1947). I am delighted to put it on record that the five volume series of Martyrs Project has been very well acknowledged among the researchers of history.

The Hon'ble Prime Minister of India Shri Narendra Modi has released this series at his official residence 7, Lok Kalyan Marg on 07 March 2019. Further, under its objective 'institutional arrangements for training in research Methodology', we have chalked out the plan of organising such research workshops one at the ICHR's headquarter (New Delhi) for 21 days, in August 2019 and the other one at its SRC, Bengaluru in October 2019. Apart from that during this period the ICHR has considered 186 proposals received for conferences, workshops and seminar grants. After assessment/evaluation the RPC approved forty eight applications under this scheme. The award of fellowships and grants was also made as a part of ICHR's routine activities. There were eighty one on the list of awardees of Junior Research Fellowship; ten holders of Post Doctoral Fellowship; eight awardees of Senior Academic Fellowship; thirty-four holders of Study-cum-Travel Grant; nine awardees of Foreign Travel Grant; eighteen awardees of Research Projects Grant. It goes without saying that more Fellowships and grants will be awarded in the next three quarters of the present financial year. During the same financial year the ICHR has given Publication subsidy to ten journals/proceedings and eight books of young historians. I feel proud to mention that the ICHR library has become a hub for the history students. I have also to underline that the Regional Centres of ICHR are playing vital role in these areas by conducting monthly lectures under Lecture Series Programme, conducting JRF examination, serving as Library-cum-Documentation Centre and other academic activities of ICHR.

Despite this there remain few problems which cause me dissatisfaction. The amount of ICHR's Fellowships is very small which has not kept pace with the increase in such fellowships from other agencies including UGC. I have constantly raised this issue with the Ministry officials followed by the Member Secretary's reminder letters to the Secretary/Joint Secretary in the Ministry of HRD. The ongoing Research Projects of the ICHR should also be completed in the given timeline and these should be brought out to the scholars for their use.

Release of Martyrs Project Series by the Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi

Dr. Mahesh Sharma, Hon'ble Minister of Culture, Prof. Rajaneesh Kumar Shukla, Member Secretary, ICHR, Prof. Amit Kumar Gupta, Co-ordinating Editor and ICHR Officers during the release Ceremony.

Releasing Ceremony:

It is matter of great pride that the Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi ji released the complete set of 5 volumes of the project titled Dictionary of Martyrs: India's Freedom Struggle (1857-1947) at his official residence, 7 Lok Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi Ji addressing the gathering.

Kalyan Marg, New Delhi on 7 March 2019. The releasing ceremony was attended by the Culture Minister, Member Secretary and Officials of the ICHR and of Ministry of Culture and its affiliated organizations. Following the release, the hon'ble Prime Minister also addressed the august gathering on the occasion. He appreciated and commended the efforts of the ICHR for bringing the obscured heroes of the freedom struggle in the annals of India's freedom movement. In that sense, he added that this effort, is not just a way to cherish the past, but is also a way to secure the future. He said that youth should especially be made aware of this effort.

During his address, the Prime Minister remembered many leaders and heroes of the freedom movement like Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Shyamji Krishna Varma and so on. He also highlighted the efforts of the government in the commemoration of great souls of freedom struggle like the constructions of National War Memorial, or Rashtriya Samar Smaarak, the National Police Memorial, the Statue of Unity (world's tallest statue), in honour of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the Kranti Mandir (in memory of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and the Azad Hind Fauj) at Red Fort. Further he added that museums are also being built to commemorate the brave deeds of the Adivasi heroes who were part of our freedom struggle.

Background of the Project:

The background to the project is as follows: A project to compile a national register of martyrs was initiated by the National Implementation Committee for organising celebrations of the 150th anniversary of the uprising of 1857 and 60 years of India's independence. The ICHR accepted the project and necessary funds at the request of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India. An

Officers of ICHR & Ministry of Culture during the address of the Hon'ble Prime Minister

Advisory Committee, comprised of historians and representatives of the Ministry of Culture and the National Archives of India, decided that the project will produce a series of volumes entitled 'Dictionary of Martyrs: India's Freedom Struggle (1857-1947)', containing brief biographical notes based to the extent possible on authentic archival and other contemporary documents.

The Advisory Committee also decided that the period to be covered by the present project would be 1857 to 1947. (This, of course, does not preclude additional projects to cover earlier years, if so proposed, to be taken up separately). The Committee also accepted for purposes of this project a definition of the term 'martyrs' which the Government of India adopted in 1980 to facilitate the distribution of awards and pensions: 'A martyr is a person who died or who was killed in action or in detention or was awarded capital punishment while participating in a national movement for emancipation of India. It includes an ex-INA or ex-military person who died fighting the British'.

To compile the write-ups on martyrs, the Central Research Team and Zonal Research Team members gathered information from almost all State Archives and other repositories in the states besides National Archives of India and Nehru Memorial Museum & Library (prominently visited).

Cultural Exchange Programme

1. Indo- UK

Networking Workshop and Research Project: The Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR), New Delhi and the Arts and Humanities Council UK (AHRC) had conducted a joint workshop during 30-31 January 2019 at Gujarat University Convention and Exhibition Centre (GUCEC), Ahmedabad, on the theme 'Cultural Heritage, Migration and Indian Diaspora'.

The event brought together the academicians from from India and England to explore how the experiences of the Indian diaspora and migratory movements have shaped Indian cultural heritage, and the importance of this heritage to the sustainable development of India.

Twenty six experts from the UK and thirty two from India participated in the event. The group comprised of both senior professors and young scholars. The faculty members and young researchers from the Study Abroad Program and Diaspora Studies, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad and Centre for Studies and Research in Diaspora, Central University of Gujarat, Gandhinagar also, actively participated in the deliberations and discussions.

In order to identify new and emerging areas for collaborative UK/India research, the workshop focused on the following thematic areas:

Indian diaspora and cultural markets : How does the Indian diaspora contribute to cultural relations between India and the rest of the world?

Digital technology as a bridge : How is digital technology changing the relationship between the Indian diaspora and cultural heritage?

Cultural Heritage Transformations : Through the process of migration, what is gained, adapted and preserved in terms of tangible and intangible cultural heritage? How does cultural heritage change within the context of migration and what are the implications for the concepts of authenticity and integrity?

Cultural heritage as a driver of migration : What are the push and pull factors between forms of cultural heritage and Indian migration?

Resourcing migration : How can cultural heritage institutions better support the Indian diaspora and international researchers who study its associated processes and impacts?

Identities and Migration: What is the relationship between cultural heritage and migration with regard, to the formation of multiple identities and contested heritage?

The programme Coordinator for this workshop was Dr. Neerja A. Gupta, Principal, Bhavan's Arts and Commerce College, Ahmedabad and the Director cum Coordinator, Study Abroad Programme and Diaspora Studies, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad. In the inaugural session, Prof. Himanshu Pandya, Vice Chancellor, Gujarat University, Prof. Arvind P. Jamkhedkar, Chairman ICHR, Ms. Sukanya Kumar Sinha, Director UKRI, India, AHRC and Dr. Om Jee Upadhyaya, Director (Research & Administration), ICHR graced the occasion and addressed the gathering. Dr. Neerja A. Gupta, Academic lead India and Professor Jerri Daboo, Academic lead UK set the context with their presentations. Dr. Rajesh Kumar, Director (Journal, Publication & Library), ICHR made a presentation on the joint report 'Reflections on the past AHRC-ICHR Collaborations' and also released the report.

After successful completion of the workshop, a joint announcement inviting application for networking research projects with a duration of up to nine months was made. The theme of the joint research projects was decided: 'Cultural Heritage, Migration and Indian Diaspora' with a budget of £30-45K per project from the UK side with matched resources of Rs.4.5 Lakhs from ICHR side. The last date of submission of applications was decided 06 June 2019. At the time of finalizing this issue of the newsletter it was reported that the meeting of the ICHR-AHRC Joint Assessment Committee for selection of joint research projects is scheduled to be held on 23 July 2019.

3 Indo-Japan

ICHR and the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS), have collaboration for research in the field of History since 2014.

For promoting the research in History, every year ICHR and JSPS jointly invite proposals for seminars and research projects from Indian and Japanese scholars engaged in historical research. There should be at least one researcher from India and Japan as a lead researcher (Principal Investigator/Seminar Coordinator) in each country. This year also a joint call for applications has been announced on the ICHR website on 6 June 2019 and subsequently in National edition of a newspaper.

ICHR Publications:

(i) Indian Historical Review (IHR)

The ICHR's journal, Indian Historical Review (IHR), in English, has served the community of historians since 1974. It is perhaps the only journal of its kind in India that has been published continuously for forty five years. It addresses research interests in all areas of historical studies, ranging from early times to contemporary history. While its focus is on the Indian sub-continent it has carried historical writings on other parts of the world as well. Committed to excellence in scholarship and accessibility in style, IHR welcomes articles which deal with recent advancements in the study of history and discussion of method in relation to empirical research. All articles, including those which are commissioned, are independently and confidentially referred. It has been an important means of transmitting results of researches in history. It has won wide recognition for its comprehensive and balanced coverage of different periods, as well as its high academic and editorial standards. IHR carries articles of a general nature though some issues are focused on particular themes. Articles, review articles, book reviews and short notices are its regular features. The journal is edited by an Editorial Board appointed by the Council. The Council also obtains the advice and support of the journal's Advisory Committee, which consists of eminent scholars working in the area of Indian historical studies in India and abroad.

Details with respect to progress made in the publication of the IHR, i.e. issue brought out during the period under report is given below:

Library Cum Documentation Centre

The ICHR library, the knowledge hub of the organization provides comprehensive access to books, journals, thesis and dissertations covering diverse disciplines. The library offers a congenial atmosphere with a reader cultured approach in a serene and calm environment to more than 1530 readers during the review period. ICHR library is committed to providing easy access to its physical and digital collections and delivering services that are open and available to all. It is determined to make the knowledge held within its collection as widely available as possible. This year has been a time of consolidation and growth for ICHR library. Many of the key services that we offer have seen significant uptake over this period. ICHR Library has developed an improved technical infrastructure to support open access work flow for the scholars and library team. The library has also been providing photocopies of academic reference to the scholars on demand at a nominal rate of one rupee per page. About 6000 (approx) exposures were delivered to the scholars for their research requirement with complete satisfactory report.

Being a member of the DELNET (Developing Library Network), the library has an advantage of accessing bibliographic information of books and can borrow books on Inter Library Loan from different libraries of Delhi and some of the libraries in other parts of the country. During the period approximately 135 transactions as inter library loan with DELNET for the scholars reference service were provided. Approximately 375 books were selected and purchased during the period. The selected books which were largely on Indian history and allied disciplines, including reference books and books relating to the history of Asia and neighbouring countries are under process to purchase. A team of research officers and faculty members of Delhi University were invited to visit to World Book Fair 2019 held in January 2019 to select the books for the ICHR Library. Library cum Documentation Centre has received about 23 books as complimentary copies and 195 M.Phil/Ph.D Thesis /Dissertations/ reports, etc from Grants-in-Aid Units of the Council.

Research Funding Schemes

The primary objective of the Council is to promote and give direction to historical research and to encourage and foster objective and scientific writing of history. Enhancing the academic standard of the output of ICHR activities has been the foremost objective of ICHR. In pursuance of this objective, the Council (i) provide fellowship and financial assistance to young teachers in colleges, universities and registered research organizations, as well as to senior scholars who might need financial support; (ii) bring historians together by providing financial assistance for holding symposia, seminars, workshops, etc. for exchanging views related to history; (iii) provide publication subsidy to the research theses, manuscripts, seminars, congress proceedings, journals, etc. so that these publications may reach out to researchers and scholars.

The grants-in-aid are awarded to scholars/institutions and are released through affiliating agencies, like research institutes, universities or colleges. The different types of research funding schemes of ICHR are as follows:

(i) Junior Research Fellowship (JRF):

Every year ICHR awards JRF to the scholars who are registered in recognized Universities for Ph.D. programme in History and allied subjects. From 2012 onwards the selection for the award of the Fellowship is based on written examination. Recently, from 2018 the mode of conducting examination has been changed to online mode from offline mode; and the pattern of the JRF examination paper has been changed from subjective type to objective type. The online examination was held on 3 February 2019. Total 401 candidates were issued hall tickets out of which 283 candidates appeared in examination (conducted at four centres Delhi, Bengaluru, Pune and Guwahati). The result of Stage-I examination was announced on 6 February 2019. On the basis of merit 154 candidates were shortlisted. These candidates were called for Stage II Presentation-cum-Interview on 21-22 February 2019. The recommendations of the Presentation-Cum-Interview Committee were placed before the 156th meeting of Research Projects Committee (RPC) held on 13.03.2019 and the Committee awarded JRF to the followings:
