INDIAN COUNCIL OF HISTORICAL RESEARCH

ANNUAL REPORT 1988-89

I

General

The Council was established by the Government of India in 1972. It has a Chairman and 27 members of whom 18 are historians appointed for three years by the Government of India, and 7 ex-officio members; the Secretary, Ministry of Human Resource Development; Secretary, Department of Culture; Financial Adviser of the Ministry of HRD, Government of India; Director, National Archives of India; Director, Archaeological Survey of India; and Chairman of the UGC. The composition of the Council as on 31 March 1989 is given in Appendix-I. The strength of the Council as on 31 March 1989 is given in Appendix-II.

The Indian Council of Historical Research has been pursuing the objective of encouraging a scientific, secular and comprehensive study of history in accordance with its original purposes. It has extended grant-in-aid to research projects, theses, monographs and journals, and has awarded fellowships to a number of scholars and given travel-cum-contingent grants for conducting historical research within and outside the country. Financial assistance has also been extended to professional organisations of historians for organising seminars and symposia and holding academic conferences. The Council brings out its own journal The Indian Historical Review, which contains articles, notes, review articles and reviews. As a part of the celebration of the 40th Anniversary of India's Independence Movement and the Birth Centenary of Jawaharlal Nehru the Council brought out an issue devoted to the freedom struggle. As part of the same celebration it also organised a number of 15-day Workshops on the National Movement in different parts of the country for university and college teachers.

Among other publications of the Council have been the Encyclopaedia of Indian Archaeology, in two volumes, and Labour Movement in India documents of which one volume has been published. During the period under review the Council has expanded the Library for the use of historians and researchers and continues to provide documentation services to the scholars.

During 1988-89 the Council continued to place emphasis on the fulfilment of its aims and objects by focusing attention on the less explored areas of historical research which include study of socio-economic formations; history of ideas; history of peasantry; agrarian relations; urban studies and demography pertaining to all periods of Indian History. Different aspects of freedom struggle covering all regions of the country and history of science and technology also received attention.

The work on the special project Towards Freedom, 1937-47 continued. Documents collected for Volume II were examined with a view to assessing its feasibility for publication. Eight editors for eight volumes of documents with the General Editor held two meetings and worked out a plan in order to complete the project by 1990. The Advisory Committee constituted for the project met in March 1989 and framed suggestions for the collection and selection of documents.

II

INCOME

During the year 1988-89 the Council received a total sum of Rs. 129.19 lakhs from the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. This comprised Rs. 39.90 lakhs for plan, Rs. 74.70 lakhs for non-plan, Rs. 13.59 lakhs for the special project, Towards Freedom and Rs. 1.00 lakh for Indo-French Seminar. As on 1.4.89 the Council had Rs. 45/- as cash in hand and Rs. 17,103/- in the Bank. Thus the total opening balance was Rs. 17,148/-. The Council also realised a sum of Rs. 43,107/- from the sale of books/journals and royalties. A detailed account for the year 1988-89 and the Annual Audit Report may be seen at Appendices III & IV respectively.

III FUNDING HISTORICAL RESEARCH

The most important objective of the Council has been to extend financial assistance to scholars/institutions for historical research and publications. The grants-in-aid schemes of the Council include funds for (1) Research Projects; (2) Fellowships; (3) Study-cum-travel grants to researchers pursuing M. Phil, Ph. D. and Post-doctoral-work; (4) financial assistance to the publication of historical works; (5) grants-in-aid to various organisations of historians for holding seminars, symposia and academic conferences as well as workshops and (6) implementing cultural exchange programmes under the aegis of the Council. The detailed information about the grants-in-aid provided to scholars/organizations since the inception of the Council till 31 March 1989 given below :

A detailed list of research projects, fellowships and study-cum-travel grants shows a large increase during the year 1988-89. The number of Fellowships, Projects, etc., that can be funded is restricted by limitation of research. In order to utilise our resources best, we have improved our mechanism of assessment. Each proposal received for financial assistance in the Council is carefully examined by experts and then placed before the Research Projects Committee of the Council for consideration. Attention has been paid to ensure that the Council's funds are properly utilised and evenly distributed throughout the country. A detailed list of the projects, fellowships and study-cum-travel grants may be seen in Appendices V, VI & VII.
